Summary

This report summarizes trends in traffic and usage of the Systematic Review Data Repository (SRDR) and SRDR+ Web sites (srdp.ahrq.gov and srdplus.ahrq.gov) during the period of January 2020 through December 2020. Where relevant, the current extent of usage of SRDR and SRDR+ are summarized back to each Web site's launch date (June 2012 for SRDR and December 2018 for SRDR+).

Over the last 12 months, SRDR experienced a total of 53,432 visitors to the Web site (average of 1,444 visitors per month), with each visitor, on average, logging 2,422 sessions per month with approximately four page views per session. The majority of visitors to the Web site (78%) were new visitors (as opposed to returning visitors). Over the period of January 2020 through December 2020, the trends for traffic to the SRDR+ Web site were also recorded. According to Google Analytics, the SRDR+ website received a total of 9,781 visitors (average of 815 visitors per month), with each visitor, on average, logging 1,097 sessions per month with approximately four page views per seen (consistent with average number of page views per session on the SRDR Web site).

Since its launch and through December 2020, the SRDR Web site has had an international user base, receiving requests for project contributor accounts or published commentator accounts from Internet Protocol (IP) addresses originating from 121 countries. Among these countries, the greatest number of requests were received from Ukraine (3,311 requests), followed by requests from the United States (3,306), Russian Federation (2,150), and the Czech Republic (800). Following in the footsteps of the SRDR Web site, SRDR+ is also enjoying an international presence, with requests from 85 countries since its launch in December 2018. The greatest number of requests for SRDR+ accounts originates in the United States (462), followed by the United Kingdom (147), Brazil (78), and India (77).

Staff members from all EPCs funded by AHRQ for the EPC V and EPC VI contracts were trained and certified to contribute systematic review data to SRDR. EPCs have contributed 129 of the 180 projects that have made data publicly available through the SRDR Web site. One-third of the EPC projects published in SRDR (42 of 129) used data extraction forms within SRDR to enter structured data, while over half of the EPC projects (75 of 129) uploaded data. The remaining EPC projects (n=12) entered data using a combination of data extraction forms and uploading of data.

A. Introduction

Development of the Systematic Review Data Repository (SRDR) began in July 2010, and the system was released for use by EPCs and the public in June 2012. The Brown University Evidence-based Practice Center (EPC) has developed, provided user support, and served as the SRDR management team since SRDR's inception. The Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ) funds these activities.

For the past 8+ years, SRDR has served as both an archive and a data extraction tool that has been shared among organizations and individuals producing systematic reviews worldwide. SRDR enables the creation of a central database of systematic review data. An introductory article describing the goals, rationale, challenges, and benefits of SRDR was published in 2012.¹ A 2019 article described the projects with publicly available data in SRDR.²

SRDR accepts projects related to reviews of any topic in any field, regardless of whether the review's focus is on interventions, diagnosis, epidemiology, methodology, or other aspects. However, it should be clarified up front that we do not claim that the reviews in SRDR are representative of all systematic reviews; rather, they represent the reviews funded by the AHRQ and those conducted by other groups that use SRDR.

Released to the public in December 2018, SRDR+ is an updated version of SRDR designed to improve the efficiency of the data extraction process. Aside from updating the overall interface and user experience of SRDR, SRDR+ includes the following key features: 1) Ability to import citations into SRDR+ through a variety of possible file formats; 2) Ability to screen abstracts; 3) Ability to extract outcome definitions in a format consistent with other study registries, such as ClinicalTrials.gov; and 4) Ability to adjudicate discrepancies between data extracted by two or more extractors from the same study (i.e., Data Comparison Tool). This Data Comparison Tool displays copies of extracted data pertaining to the same study side-by-side, and flags disagreements that require resolution.

Our specific objectives in this Annual Report are to describe the extent of usage of SRDR and SRDR+ since the last annual report was published in May 2020. Because this period covers approximately 6 months, we have extended the period to 1 year by also including statistics since January 2020. This is to facilitate comparisons and assessments of trends with previous (and future) SRDR and SRDR+ Annual Reports. When relevant, we have also provided data back to June 2012 when SRDR was first launched for public use.

B. Data source and data collection method

To enable the collection of information regarding the growth of both the SRDR and SRDR+ databases on a monthly basis, the SRDR team at the Brown EPC implements custom MySQL queries that are executed on the SRDR production and training databases. Statistics are collected regarding new user registrations, newly initiated projects, and the number of studies residing in the system.

SRDR and SRDR+ usage data are collected by executing MySQL queries directly on the production server. This method allows accounting of two types of SRDR users: those certified as project contributors and those who have registered public commentator accounts; both types of users have the ability to download data from projects published to SRDR, as well as comment on published projects. However, users simply browsing published content (i.e., non-registered public viewers) do not require registration and therefore are not traceable by our querying method. To account for these users, Google Analytics® server files are parsed directly. These files contain data for all visitors to the site (new and returning visitors, number of sessions, and number of pages viewed per session), regardless of account type. These data are used to create Tables 1 and 2 in Section C.

C. Results

According to Google Analytics[®], the SRDR Web site experienced a total of 53,432 visitors to the site over the period of December 2017 (i.e., the first month of visit statistics recording non-Google Analytics[®]) through December 2020, with an average of 1,444 visitors per month (range: 674 to 2,913) (Table 1). The majority of visitors to the site were new users (average new users per month was 1,123 vs. 321 returning users). Figure 1 illustrates the breakdown of new and returning users who visited SRDR over this period.

During this period, an average of 2,422 sessions were logged per month. Google Analytics[®] defines a session as the period of time during which a user is actively engaged with the Web site. Approximately four pages of the site were viewed during each session, giving an average of 10,918 pages viewed per month (Table 1). Note that the number of page views includes repeated viewings of pages. Figure 2 shows the trend in the total number of pages viewed per month by visitors to the SRDR Web site. While there have been fluctuations, these have remained relatively stable.

January 2020 marked the first time that visit statistics for the SRDR+ Web site were recorded on a continual monthly basis on Google Analytics[®]. According to Google Analytics[®], the SRDR+ Web site experienced a total of 9,781 visitors to the site over the period of January 2020 through December 2020, with an average of 815 visitors per month (range: 407 to 1891) (Table 2). Similar to the SRDR Web site, the majority of visitors to the SRDR+ site were new users (average 704 new users per month vs. 111 returning users). Figure 3 illustrates the trend in the total number of pages viewed per month by visitors to the SRDR+ Web site.

During this period, the average visitor logged 1097 sessions per month. During each session, on average of four pages of the site were viewed, giving an average of 4,670 pages viewed on average per month (Table 2). Figure 4 shows the trend in the total number of pages viewed per month by visitors to the SRDR+ Web site.

International Presence of the SRDR Web site

Since its launch in June 2012, the SRDR Web site has continued to enjoy a broad international presence, receiving requests for either project contributor accounts or published commentator accounts from IP addresses originating from 121 countries (as illustrated in Figure 5 and listed in Table 3 of Section C.3. of this Report), up from 70 countries observed in May 2020 and 48, the year before that. Among these countries, the greatest number of requests were received from Ukraine (3311 requests), followed by the United States (3306), the Russian Federation (2150), the Czech Republic (800), Romania (457), and Canada (386) (Table 4 for the 10 countries with the greatest number of account requests).

The authors of this Report suspect that the number of requests originating from the Russian Federation, Ukraine, and Czech Republic represent an outlier that is likely associated with the inundation of fake requests for project contributor accounts and public commentator accounts that have been received by the SRDR system since 2018. These requests are identified as fake since they are most likely computer-generated and are often characterized by usernames which contain a string of random characters, followed by a different string of random characters entered exactly the same for the first name, last name, and organization fields of the account. As of January 1st, 2021, the SRDR team screened out 2,853 suspected fake requests for SRDR public commentator accounts (68% of all requests compared to 40% as of May 2020) and 6,773 suspected spoof accounts requesting SRDR project contributor accounts (68% of all requests compared to 69% as of May 2020).

International Presence of the SRDR+ Web site

Since its launch in December 2018, the SRDR+ Web site has also experienced an international presence. Requests for user accounts on the SRDR+ Web site have originated from 85 different countries (as illustrated in Figure 6 and listed in Table 5 of Section C.4. of this Report), up from 77 countries recorded in May 2020, and 28 countries the year before that. The greatest number of requests originated from the United States (462), followed by the United Kingdom (147), Brazil (78), India (77), Canada (59), China (54), and Australia (47) (Table 6 for the 10 countries with the greatest number of account requests).

Usage of the SRDR Web site (Accounts Requested and Projects Created and Published)

From the launch of the SRDR Web site through December 2020, a total of 1,326 verified public commentator accounts and 1,545 verified project contributor accounts (up from 1,288 and 1,473, respectively, in May 2020) were created (Figures 7-9 in Sections C.5 and C.6 of this Report). A cumulative total of 826 SRDR projects were initiated (not including projects with 0 study records or projects created by SRDR staff for testing or demonstration purposes), and of these projects, 180 were published to the SRDR Published Projects page (link: <https://srd.ahrq.gov/projects/published>) (Figures 11 and 12 in Section C.8 of this Report). These published projects are available for public review and download of systematic review data. Characteristics of initiated projects, and separately, published projects in SRDR are listed in Tables 7 and 8 of this Report.

Among the 180 published SRDR projects, EPCs contributed 129 projects (Figure 15 in Section E of this Report). One project, “Early Diagnosis, Prevention, and Treatment of C. difficile: Update [Entered Retrospectively]” (published by the University of Minnesota EPC), is an update of an existing project in SRDR, “Effectiveness of Early Diagnosis, Prevention, and Treatment of Clostridium difficile Infection [Entered Retrospectively]” (also published by the same EPC).

Among the 129 projects published by EPCs to date, one-third (42 projects) used structured SRDR extraction forms to enter data into SRDR. Of these 42 projects, data were manually entered with an SRDR extraction form for 28 projects (up from 25 as of May 2020), imported into an SRDR extraction form for 11 projects (up from 10 as of May 2020), and partly manually entered and partly imported into a data extraction form for 3 projects (also no change since May 2020). Over half (58%) of the published EPC projects to date (75 projects; up from 68 projects as of May 2020) uploaded unstructured data (i.e., Microsoft Word documents, Microsoft Excel files, and PDF files) to SRDR. The remaining 12 (no change as of May 2020) published EPC projects by entering both structured and unstructured data using a combination of manually entering/importing data or manually entering/uploading unstructured data (Table 11 in Section E of this Report).

Usage of the SRDR+ Web site (Accounts Requested and Projects Created)

Following its launch in December 2018, the SRDR+ Web site accrued 166 project contributor accounts by May 2019. One year later (May 2020), the SRDR+ website increased its user-base to include 1,063 project contributors and by the end of 2020, 1,684 project contributors (Figure 10 in Section C.7 of this Report).

Paralleling the consistent growth of project contributor accounts on the site, 208 projects with 1 or more data extractions, were created on SRDR+ as of December 31, 2020 (up from 101 projects created as of May 2020) (Figure 13 and Table 9 in Section C.9 of this Report). Note: this number does not include projects created by SRDR staff for testing or demonstration purposes, as well, it is assumed that projects without any data extractions may indicate that the project is either: 1) very new and actual data extraction was not started yet; or 2) users are just ‘trying out’ the system without initiating an actual systematic review.

SR-360 and SRDR+ Development

The SRDR Team completed development of SR-360 (formerly SRDR 2.0) in July 2020. SR-360 was added as a feature available to all users of SRDR+. SR-360 allows SRDR+ users to both contribute summaries of systematic reviews with a structured, interactive, and user-friendly format, link those summaries with their respective systemic review data saved in SRDR+ projects, and search for and export systematic review data from other users’ published projects.

SR-360 was developed in three steps: (1) identifying potential structured elements from common items reported in 10 published systematic reviews; (2) finalizing the list of structured elements through iterative discussions with 21 international academic and non-academic stakeholders with diverse perspectives (i.e., physicians, clinical decision support specialists, ClinicalTrials.gov representatives, systematic reviewers, journal editors, patients/consumers, research funders, and computer programmers); and (3) building, refining, and one-on-one user testing of a prototype (with a similarly diverse set of stakeholders).

In addition to working on SR-360, the SRDR Team worked collaboratively with Brian Alper’s COVID-19 Knowledge Accelerator (COKA) Development work group, to establish an SRDR+ API, compatible with EBMonFHIR standards. The SRDR+ API can be accessed at the following link: <https://sdrplus.ahrq.gov/apipie>. Using the SRDR+ API, the workgroup which later evolved into Brian Alper’s Non-profit, Computable Publishing, LLC, was able to fetch data on ~4,100 outcomes directly from the SRDR+ API, thereby establishing as proof of concept, that Computable Publishing, is able to fetch data originally entered into SRDR+ Extraction Forms, in a FHIR format, and that SRDR+ represents one of the first FHIR-certified databases. In collaboration with Computable Publishing, the SRDR programming team also incorporated Brian Alpers' Outcome Viewer tool into the SRDR+ API. The Outcome Viewer defines outcome characteristics/components by their title, description, SNOWMED code, and timing, and works directly with SRDR+ API endpoints. After developing the Outcome Viewer, The SRDR programming team will next collaborate on developing a population viewer, and in this way work up to creating a viewer for all elements of systematic review 'evidence'.

Finally, the following tools/features were also added to SRDR+ since May 2020:

- Importing tool for importing data saved in Microsoft Excel Worksheets into SRDR+ extraction forms. The SRDR+ Import tool allows users to keep their Excel sheets intact and simply map fields of data from their excel sheet to fields in the SRDR+ extraction form. All that will be required is that users' Excel sheets are formatted such that only one piece of data at a time is included in anyone cell
- SRDR legacy export format added to the list of formats available to SRDR+ users to export data from SRDR+ projects. Note: The legacy format mimics the format of SRDR Simple Exports which many users are familiar with.

SRDR+ Features to be added in the near future include:

- SRDR+ Published Projects Page
- Custom Exporter Tool

SRDR Conference Presentations, Invited Talks, and Training Sessions

During the current reporting period (Jan 2020 through Dec 2020), we presented information regarding SRDR and SRDR+ and networked with colleagues to promote dissemination. This included six invited talks, including a panel discussion, webinars, and training presentations (Section D.3 of this Report). Additionally, over the last 12 months, staff members from all 9 EPCs currently funded by AHRQ were trained and certified to contribute systematic review data to SRDR (Table 10 in Section E of this Report).

C.2.b Comments on Published Systematic Review project's data

No comments were posted by any of the registered public commentators.

⁵ A registered project contributor is an individual who has been given permission to contribute data to a project in SRDR. Accounts of this type would initially be assigned via certified groups or organizations rather than through SRDR's Web registration. EPCs and other groups would be granted rights to contribute data to the SRDR. Individual contributors who wish to submit evidence reviews not conducted under the auspices of an SRDR-recognized or -affiliated sponsoring organization would be granted access separately under policies to be established with guidance from the SRDR governing board.

In 2020, we prioritized providing training and technical support to current EPCs, then to major organizations that conduct Systematic Reviews (e.g., Cochrane and researchers based in academic institutions), before responding to other requests. Since the launch of SRDR in June 2012 and including the last 12 months of the current contract period, we have provided training to all 9 EPCs currently contracted for EPC VI. Table 9 summarizes the contact person for each EPC and Table 10 summarizes the characteristics of EPC projects published to SRDR.

Table 10. List of Contact Persons for each EPC funded by AHRQ from June 2019 through December 2020

Appendix A.2. Complete list of 180 published projects (17,713 studies) currently in SRDR as of January 1, 2021

Please Note: The number of collaborators recorded in SRDR for each published project may not accurately reflect the number of contributors who authored the report. This is because the number of collaborators in a given project, as recorded in SRDR, equals the number of SRDR user accounts that retain access to edit the project on the SRDR Web site.

Also Note: The following definitions of Data Entry in SRDR - Manual entry (typing or copying and pasting data values, individually, into data fields on SRDR extraction forms); Importing (requires, first, formatting and saving the data as a Microsoft Excel spreadsheet. Data from the spreadsheet is then read and transferred, in batch, by the SRDR Data Import tool into data fields on SRDR extraction forms); and Uploading (Requires using the SRDR Report Manager tool to “attach” PDF, text, MS Word, or MS Excel files containing study data)
